This guidance will be used by the appointed consultants (RHCS Consultancy) to assist the partnership in putting together its first plan.

The original action plan template and full guidance remain unchanged at this stage and will be used to inform the production of future local plans and to seek clarity on what to include in separate sections. These documents are available on the council website – www.walsall.gov.uk .

4. The workshop

RHCS Consultancy will facilitate a workshop immediately following the formal meeting. The session will run as follows:

- Getting to know your area (15 minute presentation by consultants summarising the key facts about your partnership area).
- Introduction to the workshops (10 minute explanation by the consultants).

Why have these issues occurred? Who do they affect? What are we going to do about them? This session will last approximately 40 minutes and will be facilitated by the consultants.
- Summary of discussions by consultants (10 minutes)

Local Neighbourhood Partnerships Guidance on producing first local plan

Background

The production of a local plan is a key requirement for all local neighbourhood partnerships. This will involve consultation with and involvement of residents, local businesses and service providers, and voluntary and community groups. Each plan should demonstrate how it complements the 2008 Vision of the council and the themes of the Walsall Borough Strategic Partnership's Community Plan.

Guidance notes and a template have been produced to assist in putting together local neighbourhood plans and form part of the toolkit for local neighbourhood partnerships. These documents were circulated at the July meetings of each partnership and are available on the Council web site (www.walsall.gov.uk).

This updated guidance for producing the first local neighbourhood plan has been produced following feedback received from the July meetings of the partnerships and builds upon the original action plan template and full guidance. These latter two documents remain unchanged at this stage and should be used to guide the production of future local plans and to seek clarity on what to include in the separate sections.

Producing the first local neighbourhood plan

The original template for local neighbourhood plans is made up of statements relating to the 2008 Vision and the Borough Strategic Partnership, 5 individual sections and two appendices – resulting in a document of some 25 to 30 pages in length.

How the plan will be drawn together

The production of the first plan will involve the following six steps and key dates:

What needs to happen	Who will do it	When by
1. Summarising of existing data and sourcing previous consultations undertaken	Consultants, liaising with Council and other partners	17 th Sept
2. Facilitated workshop with each local neighbourhood partnership	Consultants, liaising with the Head of Neighbourhood Partnerships	20 th Sept to 18 th Oct
3. Production of a summary document capturing initial actions agreed covering: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Development of the partnership- Possible solutions to address the key issues	Consultants, liaising with each partnership	1 st Nov

6. First local plan finalised and agreed	Local neighbourhood partnerships with support from the Neighbourhood Partnerships Team	Jan 05

What information will be included in the plan

This guidance focuses production of the first plan on key components from the full template. The step-by-step guide outlined below takes extracts from the full template and highlights what specifically should be included, how the information will be drawn together, and by whom. There is no prescription of how each plan will look - they clearly need to capture the identity of each area. They should all contain the same key components to be built upon as the partnership evolves. The duration of the first plan will be until the end of March 2006

The actions in section three should be grouped under the themes of the 2008 Vision. It is not expected that every partnership will have a list of actions under every theme of the Vision. The actions and issues will be relevant to the individual local neighbourhood partnership. They should be prioritised, focused on the key issues facing the area and achievable by the dates indicated.

They will produce a first draft on behalf of each partnership to meet the deadline of Mid-November. It will be the responsibility of each partnership to agree the draft and final version of their local plan by January 2005.
