

Council – 5 November 2007

Report from the Working Group on the Review of Polling Districts and Places

Service Area: Electoral Registration

Wards: All wards

Summary of report

Recommendations on each polling district / polling place from the Working Group set up by council in May 2007 to conduct the statutory review of its polling districts and polling places.

Recommendations

That the recommendations of the Working Group, set up by Council to conduct the review of the borough's polling districts and places, that are contained within each of the parliamentary constituency reports, be adopted.

Overview

The membership of the Working Group was as follows;

Councillor A Andrew (Chairperson)
Councillor T Oliver
Councillor V Woodruff (with Councillor P Hughes as substitute)
Peter Allsop (Electoral Services Manager with delegated authority from the Returning Officer)
Susan Wright (Assistant Electoral Services Manager)
Sue Fox (Access Officer – Disability)

The review has to be based on polling districts for a UK Parliamentary election. For future general elections the constituency boundaries within the borough will align with council's ward boundaries.

A polling district is the area created by the division of a constituency into smaller parts, within which a "polling place" can be determined, which is convenient for electors.

A polling place is the building or area in which polling stations will be selected by the Returning Officer. There is no legal definition of a "polling place" and if one is not designated then the polling district, by default, becomes the polling place.

A polling station has to be located within a "polling place" designated by council. It is the Returning Officer who has responsibility for determining polling stations.

While the legislation refers to polling districts and polling places, for practical reasons the review is a “bottom up” exercise in that it considers the catchment of electors around a suitable polling station, simply because finding suitable a polling station is more difficult than designating an area as a polling district.

In this review, the practice adopted has been to not specifically designate a “polling place” except where the polling station is located outside of a polling district. Therefore, by default, in the majority of cases the polling district is also the “polling place”. The advantage of this is that it gives the Returning Officer greater flexibility in choosing the location of a polling station, if one previously used suddenly becomes unavailable.

The existing basic relationship between polling districts, registers and ballot boxes is a long established one and there is no one consistent type of relationship across the borough.

When polling districts were established long ago, the registers within them were based on streets in alphabetical order. This has produced an intermixing of registers within a polling district that when shown on a map often looks odd but the fact they attend the same polling station means it has no negative impact. It does however create a lot of minor changes when making alterations to a polling district, especially when dividing an existing one.

Appeals

Council’s decisions may be appealed to the Electoral Commission by

- ❖ An interested authority in England or Wales
- ❖ Not less than 30 electors in the constituency
- ❖ A person (other than the Returning Officer) who has made representations (submissions) to the review
- ❖ A person who is not an elector in the authority’s area but who the Commission think has sufficient interest in the accessibility of disabled persons to polling places in the area or has particular expertise in relation to the access to premises or facilities of disabled persons

The basis of any appeal must be that the council has not;

- ❖ Conducted the review so as to meet the reasonable requirements of the electors in the constituency or any body of those electors, or
- ❖ Taken sufficient account of the accessibility to disabled persons of polling stations within a designated polling place.

Section 18 E of the Act states that no election can be questioned by reason of;

- ❖ Any non-compliance with the provisions of Sections 18A to 18D of the Act, or
- ❖ Any informality relative to polling districts or polling places.

Resource and legal considerations

The review has been conducted pursuant to Section 18C of the Representation of the People Act 1983 (the Act) and is legally required to be completed before 31st December 2007.

The decisions of council in regard to the review (in so far as changes to registers) have to be incorporated into the new electoral registers published at the end of November 2007. The amount of work required to achieve this (if all recommendations are adopted) will invariably mean the publication of revised registers after 1st December 2007.

Citizen impact

For the most part, electors who will change polling stations as a result of the review will be better served because their new polling station will be at a more convenient location for them.

However, changing some people's polling station may bring some criticism in the short term simply because of the need for them to change habit on election day.

Environmental impact

Not applicable.

Performance and risk management issues

There are no significant risks and no performance issues.

Equality implications

The needs of disabled elector's have been prominent in the review and where possible action has been taken to remedy identified access issues.

Consultation

The review was publicly notified with a 60 calendar day period for written submissions. Specific groups, such as schools, ward members and MP's were asked if they wished to make submissions.

Submissions were received from 6 individual schools and a blanket submission from Serco asking that we avoid using schools as polling stations for reasons of child safety, impact on attendance and disruption to schools during the annual national exams period in May for secondary schools.

The Working Group adopted the approach of trying to find suitable alternatives for the 59 schools currently used and has managed to remove 9 schools from the list (see table below), for the foreseeable future. Where it has been unable to avoid using a school, it is simply because no suitable alternative is available.

Schools no longer required

- ❖ Blue Coat C E Infant School, Hanch Place, Walsall
- ❖ Blue Coat C E Junior School, Springhill Road, Walsall
- ❖ King Charles Primary School, Wilkes Avenue, Bentley
- ❖ New Invention Infant School (Nursery Ent), Cannock Road, New Invention
- ❖ Queen Mary's High School Pavilion, Sutton Road, Walsall
- ❖ St Francis Catholic Primary School, Mill Road, Shelfield
- ❖ St.Mary Of The Angels Catholic Primary School, Weston Crescent, Aldridge
- ❖ Walsall College Of Arts & Technology, The Shelley Campus, Ida Road Entrance
- ❖ Whitehall School, West Bromwich Road, Walsall

Background Papers

A list of submissions received is attached to this report.

Appendices A to T contains the lists of streets and house numbers that make up each polling district, based on the recommendations of the Working Group. They will become the official record of what constitutes each polling district. Any council amendments to the Working Group's recommendations will be incorporated into the relevant appendices.

Maps of each polling district (as they were before the commencement of the 2007 review) will be displayed in council chambers for this meeting.

Note that the details shown in italics was the existing situation considered by the working group. Any changes recommended are shown under the heading "Working Group's Recommendation". The statement under the heading "Effect" is just a brief summary of the recommendations.

Unless stated otherwise, the principle reasons for changes to polling districts are to provide a more convenience polling place for those electors affected or to avoid using a school where a suitable alternative is available.

Walsall Council

5 November 2007

Note that the details shown in italics was the existing situation considered by the working group. Any changes recommended are shown under the heading "Working Group's Recommendation". The statement under the heading "Effect" is just a brief summary of the recommendations.

Unless stated otherwise, the principle reasons for changes to polling districts are to provide a more convenience polling place for those electors affected or to avoid using a school where a suitable alternative is available.
