Community Safety 2009

Building strong engagement, accountability and confidence with your local community and partners

The Place Survey revealed there is still much to be done when it comes to tackling community safety locally. What can you do to improve public perception, respond to community concerns and transform your local area?

Local Government Chronicle presents Community Safety 2009, a practical day designed to provide you with the tools and techniques you need to tackle this crucial agenda.

Attend this national conference for strategic guidance on crime and justice policy developments, practical lessons from leading community safety partnerships and the opportunity to network with colleagues from across the UK. Learn how to share data and use intelligence to develop and target community safety work. Embed a fully integrated approach across your partners. Forge essential links between community safety and criminal justice.

PLUS! Benefit from an interactive workshop session on social marketing. Work with the National Social Marketing Centre and your peers. Develop practical strategies for communicating to your community and involving them in your strategy to improve public perception of your local area.

Book today to:

- Establish clear governance and accountability across your partnerships
- Translate national policy into local improvement
- Develop initiatives which can reduce the fear of crime and improve public confidence
- Effectively map crime across your community to target partner operations
